AMONG THE SICK.

A REVIEW OF THE FEVER FIELD.

Blackburn's Theory of the Fever's Start—Georgia People Among the Nurses and the Victims—The Eccentricity of the Quarantine—The Situation in Mobile, Etc.

HOW THE FEVER ORIGINATED.

In an interview with a reporter of the Nashville American, Dr. Luke P. Blackburn said that the yellow fever now prevailing in this country is directly traceable to Havana. It was brought to New Orleans by the steamer Russia on the 8th of last June. That steamer had stopped at Havana on its way from Liverpool and had taken on board 1,000 boxes of sugar. Not long after its arrival the first cases appeared. The disease, therefore, did not originate at New Orleans. Neither did it originate at Vicksburg, Grenada, Memphis, Greenville, Brownsville, Hickman and Gallapolis. It was brought to these places, in the main, by persons from the infected districts. The ark of death, the steamer John D. Porter, had helped to spread it at Hickman, Ky. Before her arrival there the people had established a quarantine which was wholly ineffective. No person from Hickman was allowed to go to the boat, but persons on the boat were allowed to come into Hickman. When the Golden Rule, another infected steamer, arrived, two little apple boys went aboard of her and returned. They were chased by the city marshal but not overtaken. In a few days after these boys died of black vomit. The two men lived next to the house of the Millet family, who were taken with it and died. From this the disease spread throughout the town and made it a charnel house.

EFFICACY OF QUARANTINE.

Union City has thoroughly demonstrated the efficacy of quarantine. It was between Martin, ten miles distant, and Hickman, Ky., which was also ten miles distant. It was surrounded by swamps. It had maintained such a strict quarantine that a rat could not go through the picket lines without being seen, and it is now paying two men, who had gone out and nursed and buried a yellow fever tramp, three dollars per day to keep away from the town until after frost. Union City has been exempt only in consequence of its quarantine.

HOW IT IS IN MOBILE.

When, some weeks ago, a reporter of THE CONSTITUTION published an interview with a Mobile gentleman to the effect that there were sporadic cases of yellow fever in that city, the Mobile papers denounced the publication as totally untrue, and a demand was made from that city for the name of the alleged "slanderer." It appears from the following official statement by the Mobile board of health that our informant told the truth, and that the Mobile papers went off half-cocked:

"The first case occurred on August 11th, and died August 15th; the second case on the 27th and died on the 31st. The third case occurred on September 6th, and up to the 10th inst., only three cases were reported; to the 20th inst. nine cases, and to the 30th inst. 10 cases. No new cases, however, has been reported as having occurred since the 26th inst. Thus there has been a total of 24 cases. Of these 15 have died, four are under treatment and four have recovered. Twelve of the twenty-four cases have been adults, and 12 children; 9 males and 15 females; 19 whites and 5 colored. The disease has been confined to one locality in the northern portion of the city, one case only having occurred elsewhere and that was contracted in the same locality. The disease has not shown a disposition to spread or put on an epidemic character, as it has done in every other locality that we have heard of. It has not seemed to exert any influence or modify existing diseases, as is the case when it prevails epidemically."

A GEORGIA IMPOSTOR.

The Memphis Appeal says: "His name is C. W. Foster. He came from Macon, Ga., and as he registered at the Peabody hotel, he affixed those solemn letters, M. D., to his autograph. This was on the 11th ult., and in the bustle and excitement which prevailed at that period, without closely scrutinizing his credentials, he was assigned to duty as a Howard physician. Yesterday, rumors reached the ears of Dr. R. W. Mitchell, the medical director of the Howard association, that Foster had charged one of the patients [illegible] An investigation proved the truth of the rumor, and also the fact that Foster is not an M. D., never having graduated from any medical college, so the self-styled doctor was immediately relieved from duty, and in very plain language given to understand that free transportation awaited his departure from the city."

A LUDICROUS ERROR.

The Savannah News acknowledges the corn, as follows:

"An Atlanta friend calls attention to our recent article on the appearance of the yellow fever at Chattanooga, and states that the latter city is only six hundred and fifty feet above the sea level, while Atlanta is eleven hundred. In our article we gave that figure as the altitude of Atlanta, but not being able to ascertain that of Chattanooga, supposed that as it was still further north, further from the sea, and at the base of Lookout Mountain, it was situated at equally as great a height as Atlanta. The difference, of course, so much the more certainly insures Atlanta's immunity from the dreaded disease, although the appearance of the fever as an epidemic in Chattanooga effectually explodes the theory so often advanced that it cannot prevail at an elevation of over four hundred feet above the sea."

A WORSE MISTAKE.

The Augusta Evening News says that yellow fever refugees are flocking from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and that several cases of fever have ocourred among them. This is a mistake. We have not heard of a single case among these refugees. The Macon Telegraph and Messenger is also misinformed by its correspondent, who makes a somewhat similar statement.

THE MASONIC FUND.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: In obedience to the call made in the columns of your valuable paper, several members of the fraternity have made their reports of collections for the relief of yellow fever sufferers to this time, which reports are as follows, viz:

Atlanta lodge No. 59 F. & A. M., through W. F. Parkhurst, chairman committee, $25; R. T. Pryor, amount collected, $10 50; C. J. Hancock collected $17; George Thompson collected $6 25; A. L. Holbrook collected $9 20; J. P. Dean collected $2 75; Geo. H. Holliday collected $3; John Stevens collected $1; Moses Lipes paid through Geo. H. Holliday $1; Winship & Bro. paid through C. J. Hancock $10; Hunnicutt & Bellingrath, through W. F. Parkhurst, $10. Fulton lodge No. 216 F. & A. M. through David Mayer collected $6; C. F. Malone collected $4; David Mayer collected $9 25. Georgia lodge No. 96 F. & A. M. through Calvin Fay collected $48 50. Proceeds of an entertainment given at McPherson barracks, under the management of Sergeant Campbell and committee, $41. Total, $198 15. Amount remitted to J. L. Powers, grand secretary, Jackson, Mississippi, $131. Balance on hand, $67 15.

Special mention should be made of the contributions from the men at the barracks to this noble cause, as this is not the first of their gifts. The soldier's heart is ever open to the call of distress and suffering, come from whence it may. In the name and on behalf of the fraternity of Atlanta we extend to them our thanks for this timely offering.

GEORGIA PHYSICIANS IN MEMPHIS.

The following is the latest reports relating to the Georgia physicians in Memphis:

On active duty—Dr. E. F. DeGraffenreid, Columbus; Dr. Benjamin F. Sheftall, Savannah; Dr. J. T. McFarland, Savannah; Dr. N. J. Fogarty, Columbus.

On the death roll—Jr. J. M. S. White, of Atlanta; Dr. Langdon A. Chevess, of Savannah.

Memphis Appeal: "Dr. Cheviss, the gallant and talented young physician from Savannah, Georgia, and who rendered valuable assistance to Dr. T. O. Summers in pathological examinations at the city hospital, died yesterday after several days' illness. Dr. Cheviss made many friends among his medical brethren while in the field, and the announcement of his death will be received with universal regret."

Dr. B. F. Sheftall, of Savannah, Ga., has been placed in charge of the Linden street infirmary.

A GEORGIA PHYSICIAN'S PROTEST.

The following open letter to the president of the United States appears in the Savannah News, and explains itself:

To the President of the United States—Respected Sir: From a recent publication I learn that the "surgeon general" desires to raise subscriptions from the principal cities of the country to defray the expenses of a commission to investigate the subject of yellow fever—its causes, condition and treatment. From the high position held by that officer, our natural conclusion would be that everything pertaining to the unhappy subject, especially such things as tend to lessen its horrors and control its virulence, would receive his prompt endorsement, yet I am pained to have a fear that such will not be the case, and I am justified in this inference by all past experience.

I, therefore, in the name of humanity, and in behalf of all fever-stricken and endangered communities, enter my solemn protest against any such one-sided and futile investigation, which can result in but little permanent good, and will deliberately shut off the grand truths of successful treatment everywhere exhibited by a school of practitioners which this officer pretends to exclude from the medical professions, but whose brilliant successes in yellow fever epidemics present beacon lights of guidance for suffering people.

From the manner in which the medical department of the government has been heretofore run, one would imagine that allopathic physicking was a part of the United States constitution! I do not so understand it. I understand it to be the object of that department to find out the best means of saving life; and if this be its object, I demand, in the name of all humanity, that any commission organized under the authority of the government shall seek information from all medical practitioners, and shall incorporate such information in their report and give to the people of this country, homeopathists as well as allopathists, the gentle and humane systems of treatment which have everywhere crowned the homeopathic practitioners with the laurels of success. Respectfully yours,

L. A. FALLIGANT, M. D.
Savannah, Ga., September 28, 1878.

THE BAPTIST FUND.

The Memphis Baptist relief association acknowledges the receipt of $18 50 from Rev. Frank Quarles, the colored minister of this city.

A QUEER PHENOMENON.

Vicksburg special to the Courier-Journal: The case of one of those who died to-day presented a peculiarity that is puzzling the doctors not a little. He absolutely vomited worms. This has never occurred here before, or elsewhere, that anybody knows of. The doctors are at their wits' ends to account for it. The worms have been sent to Prof. Jones, a chemist and eminent physician at New Orleans, to undergo scientific investigation there.

FEVER AT DALTON.

Refutation of Certain Erroneous Impressions.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Under the above head in your paper of to-day, October 2d, occurs this statement: "At a meeting of the general relief committee in Chattanooga on Monday afternoon, the following occurred: Maj. Connor stated that a case of yellow fever had developed among the refugees at Dalton, and that the people around were more or less avoiding it, and consequently there was a prospect of suffering. He asked authority to solicit aid for the suffering refugees in Dalton, which was granted him, with power to distribute what he received."

For fear this paragraph should cause the people to misunderstand our citizens, I beg leave to make a few statements about the matter of it. Maj. Connor shows a zeal which is worthy of him, not only in collecting aid for the sufferers in Chattanooga, but also for the suffering refugees from Chattanooga, which is also very commendable, but when he says that the people around this suffering refugee in Dalton are more or less avoiding her, and that as a consequence there is a prospect of suffering, he misstates the case. Two of our best physicians have attended her regularly and faithfully—Drs. Bivings and Gordon, and a number of our citizens who do not live "around" have visited her, and besides all, she has been in the house with her relatives. As I am chairman of the only committee in Dalton whose business it is to collect funds for yellow fever sufferers, and as I have kept posted about the condition of this case as near as I could get it from the physicians, I think I may safely say she has not been so provided by "the people around" as to create "a prospect of suffering." A people who would throw wide open their doors to the sufferers would not likely avoid them when they come.

SONS OF ISHMAEL.

A Gang of Counterfeiters—Escape of Prisoners, Etc.

LOUISVILLE, October 3.—The United States authorities have information that a large gang of counterfeiters who have been operating in the mountains have been captured. Fourteen are now under arrest. The [illegible] etc., were captured. The operations [illegible] extensive.

PHILADELPHIA, October 3.—Sheriff Adams [illegible] this morning started from Atlantic City by the Camden and Atlantic railroad for Camden, on his way to the state prison at Trenton, having in charge Charles Crane, sentenced to three years' imprisonment. When the train was a short distance below Ancoria station and running at the rate of 30 miles an hour, Crane suddenly ran to the back platform of the car, jumped off and fled through the woods.

LONDON, October 3.—Peter Freeman, the self-confessed murderer from Bull river, was again before the Bow street police court today. The extradition papers were handed to the foreign office Tuesday, but have not yet reached the legislature, and he is remanded until Wednesday next. After his recommital he escaped from a cell in Bow street station house and made his way to the roof of the building, when the flight was observed, and he was recaptured after a desperate struggle.

CINCINNATI, October 3.—At Kingston, Ky., last evening, during an altercation for the possession of a pair of wagon wheels, Jerry Burnett fatally shot his nephew, William C. Burnett.

NEW YORK, October 3.—A special from Burlington, Ia., says that while A. C. Berman, geeenback candidate for congress, was addressing the meeting there last evening, Thos. Roper, chief of police, was assassinated and another man seriously wounded. No cause assigned.

COLUMBUS, O., October 3.—A special dispatch to the Evening Dispatch, from Newark, states that, last night, a most brutal outrage was committed by tramps near that city upon Mrs. Mary McMilan, a widow. She was alone in her house on the farm, when two strangers threw her down, placed a pillow over her head, and both outraged her. Upon the return of her son, she was found insensible. As soon as the news spread, a vigilance committee started in pursuit of the tramps, and, if they find them, a lynching will surely occur. There is intense excitement in the neighborhood.

DARKENING SHADOWS.

DEATHS OF RETURNING REFUGEES.

The Force of the Epidemic Fully Restored in New Orleans—Coffinless Funerals in Mississippi City—Conflict Between Relief Societies—Cold Weather in Memphis.

NEW ORLEANS, October 3.—Nearly fifteen thousand persons who have returned from the Lake Shore watering places are being prostrated almost as fast as they arrive. A perfect panic prevails. In the opinion of well-informed observers, this influence has restored the epidemic to its former status. Over five hundred are prostrated in Carrollton, and as many more in Gretna and Algiers. At Barnes hotel, Mississippi City, those who died were buried uncoffined. Colonel Jack Wharton, who is authority for this statement, says had we waited to send to New Orleans for coffins, we would have had to carry them out in blankets.

Col. Carter, one of the special agents of the international, was buried there Wednesday. The Italian refugees who, two months ago, anterior to the fever, encamped at camp Parapet, are returning. Many recently sickened. At the board of health, this morning, it was announced that the fever is increasing and will increase so long as absentees from any locality flock into the city. Thirty-six deaths are reported for the past twenty-four hours and one hundred new cases.

NEW ORLEANS, October 3.—From noon to six o'clock there were 19 deaths and 88 cases. From September 29 to date there were 75 deaths. The New Orleans relief committee, having been refused aid by the Howards, again appealed to the secretary of war for the destitute, and state to the secretary of war that the reports of those who are in a position to know show that the Howards cannot and have not relieved a large part of the destitution in the city.

Dr. Burwell A. Boba, of Georgia, one of the first physicians who volunteered for Memphis, died to-day at the Charity hospital. The report of the Pickwick club shows that 4,020 prescriptions, equal to 11,000 bottles of beef tea and soup, have been filled. One hundred pots of jelly have been given away for the benefit of the sick. Among the deaths is Steven A. O'Donnell, a printer from Boston, after two days illess. Among the new cases is C. D. West, telegraph operator. The applications for relief to the Y. M. C. A. were 112; Howards, 320. The Peabodys issued 30,100 rations.

Among the deaths to-day was Mrs. K. J. Irby, a native of Danville, Va. The death list for the 24 hours ending at noon includes 18 children under 7 years of age. There were 10 deaths last night and a large increase in new cases. L. J. Adt, a prominent member of the Howards, was taken sick last night. We are having cloudy weather, and if it continues we fear the consequences.

To-day's report show 51 deaths and 111 new cases. The weather is clear and pleasant.

MEMPHIS, October 3.—Last night was quite cool, and indications of a light frost were seen this morning. For the 24 hours ending at 12 o'clock to-day, the undertakers report 45 deaths. Among those who died since last night are Patsy W. Maley, Miss H. Clure, volunteer nurse from Jacksonville, Dr. Peeples, Miss M. S. Hoon, John M. Peabody, superintendent of the Leath orphan asylum, Mrs. J. D. Armstead and W. Roch. This morning, J. G. Watkins, of the Howard supply depot, was taken down. Sheriff J. W. Anderson was stricken down last night. The police last night arrested H. L. Allen (a nurse from Galveston, Texas,) on a charge of having attempted to rape Mrs. K. W. McDonald, who died last Thursday. The attack was attempted while Mrs. McDonald was ill with fever.

The board of health reports 26 deaths for the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock [illegible] the deaths were Mary E. Jones, Michael [illegible] in charge of the Western Union telegraph office of this city, and orders that no telegrams of any nature whatever [illegible] received after 7 o'clock at night, excepting 20 words, which are presumed only to give the number of new cases reported by the doctors of the Howard corps.

His son died two weeks ago and Mrs. Irby died this morning. A. Campbell, telegraph operator at Canton, died Wednesday, and Clark Harvey, who went from Brookhaven to take the place of the sick operator at Tangipahoa, died there last night. George T. Raroul, operator at Osika is very low. F. W. Gustine, operator here, was taken with fever, last night; all of them are doing well except Fitzsimmons, whose condition is considered critical.

A New Steamer.

Yesterday Gate City Fire company No. 5 received from Clapp & Jones a [beauti]ful new steam fire engine of the third class. It cost $3,700 and is an important a[ddition] to the force of our fire department.

The boys seemed to be very proud of [the] new machine, and met it at the depot [with] considerable enthusiasm. It was driven [to] the engine house in the fifth ward by Ch[arley] Joyner who managed the team quite gayly. The engine will soon be thoroughly tested and will doubtless give satisfaction.

CHATTANOOGA.

The News that the Gallant Men of "The Times" Have Chronicled.

The Times of yesterday has the following upon

THE SITUATION:

The situation last night was decidedly more unfavorable than the night previous. The day had been very warm and close, and the effect upon those sick and subject to sickness was bad. Three deaths were reported at the board of health meeting in the previous twenty-four hours. Three new yellow fever cases were reported and eight suspicious cases, most of which were expected to develop into yellow fever. The increase would seem to indicate that the disease had taken fresh hold and might yet prove very much worse than was hoped for. The night continued sultry to a late hour, heavy clouds indicating rain.

Among the new cases yesterday was Henry Schwier, who has been nursing his wife for a week and who is probably worn down as well as sick. Mrs. E. Stewart, who lives in the same neighborhood, was also a new case.

THE MORTUARY REPORT.

The following is the mortuary report of this city for the last twenty-four hours ending at 4 P. M., Wednesday, the 2d inst.:

S. Goldstein, white, aged 40 years, died in the 4th ward October 2, of yellow fever.

Julia Mangrum, colored, aged 6 years, died in 1st ward October 2, of scrofula.

Rosa Burkhart, white, aged 25 years, died in 4th ward October 2, of yellow fever.

Jessy Kenny, white, aged 5 years, died in 3d ward October 2, of yellow fever.

Three new cases have been reported to this office for the same period.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday there were four deaths reported, as follows:

Mrs. W. J. Crandall, W. T. Goodwin, Jesse Kearney and Daniel McMillan.

Ten new cases of fever were reported and the weather is still in a most unfavorable condition. The prospects are that the next few days will bring forth many new cases and cause a large increase in the death list.

SICK AT DALTON.

A refugee from Chattonooga telegraphs home from Dalton as follows:

"Mrs. Bohanan, sick with the fever at Dalton, is receiving every attention from the authorities. The city council assigned Drs. Gordon and Bivings to attend to her, and authorized the purchase of anything she wished. They wish Chattanoogans to know that they are welcome, and that their sick will be carefully attended to. The city of Dalton has done nobly in every respect."

Noble Dalton is making for herself a record worthy of her large-hearted people. She has opened her doors to the weak in body as well as the weak in spirit.

THE HEROIC POLICE.

The Times pays the following high and deserved tribute to the noble policemen of that city;

"We think our police force deserves much praise for their efficiency in protecting the city, and also for the aid they have rendered in care of the sick and burial of the dead. Especially is this true of Lieut. Conway and Officer Davis, who at all times and in all seasons were ready and willing to do whatever was in their power, whether belonging strictly to their duty or not. They have been up night and day, often going two and three days without rest, that they might bring rest and comfort to some sick and suffering family. Such service as this cannot be paid for. Money is no reward, and indeed reward is not expected. But their names and good deeds will be planted in the memories of those they help, and the future will bring forth good fruit to them."

MERIDIAN STRICKEN.

In the Times we also find this distressing information:

"Reliable intelligence reached the city yesterday that the fever has appeared in Meridian, Mississippi and [illegible] have [illegible] every place that had the faint[est] suspicion of yellow fever, but all [illegible] seem to have proved futile in keep[ing] the fever away. We trust they may not be visited heavily."

[illegible] CHROMOS.

The unterrified editor of the Times continues to shove his argile Faber, and the following are "specimen bricks," and are as cool as Mac is when the snow is a foot deep:

Yesterday was a very pernicious day.

Wildberger, Peyer & Co.'s factory is spinning out the cotton at the usual rate.

The manager of the Vulcan iron and nail works, yesterday, put in operation a dozen of his nail machines.

The Southern pump and pipe works have part of the force engaged, but find great difficulty in shipping facilities.

The Knoxville Tribune says we are cross. Well, this is our funeral and we've a right to be cross.

It is said the people on Lookout mountain keep their gates chained up so that parties from Chattanooga cannot get inside.

The Chattanooga saw works of C. C. Lewis & Co. are in active operation, doing what they can to keep things from looking so dull.

The steam tannery of J. B. Hoyt and Co. is running along as usual. The boys think there is bad enought smell around that section to keep off yellow fever and all other diseases.

The Vulcan rolling mills are at work turning out iron in good quantity. The nail mills have about a dozen men employed, and all the machines will be set to work if men can be found to run them.

To-night is the time when the Young Men's debating society should hold forth. We would suggest as a subject for debate the question whether the "pernicious" is black "janders" or "yaller" fever.

The Disease Increasing.

CHATTANOOGA, October 3.—In the twenty-four hours ending at 4 p. m. the following deaths were reported: Mrs. W. J. Crandall; Daniel McMillan, W. J. Woodin, John Parker, colored. There are ten new cases, and the disease seems to be increasing. A strong northerly wind all day gives hopes that it will soon diminish. There is no spread out of its old quarters.

THE FEVER IN SPAIN.

How Cuba Reaps Her Revenge.

LONDON, October 3.—A Standard's Madrid dispatch states that considerable alarm has been caused in that capital by the appearance of twenty cases of what was supposed to be typhus fever in one of the most populous quarters of the city, three of the sufferers having been admitted into the hospital. The doctors to-day declare that their symptons are those of yellow fever, and that the infection was brought from Cuba by soldiers. One of the patients in the hospital is dying and the others are in a critical condition. Of the persons attacked and treated at the home, eight or ten have died. The board of health have declared that there is no fear of an epidemic, but every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

AT THE HOSPITAL.

Three Persons Under Treatment But Not for Fever.

As we reported on Wednesday morning two persons had the day before been sent to the city hospital, both under suspicion of having the yellow fever. Upon investigation neither proved to be the fact. Another case of a refugee, we learn, was sent out yesterday, as a matter of caution, but it has given no symptom of yellow fever.

In one case the trouble is blood poisoning from exposure and starvation, another is the result of too large an acquaintance with a poor article of spiritus frumenti, and the other case is one of natural bilious derangement.

Should these or any other cases develop into yellow fever prompt notice of the fact will be given. The fidelity of our journalistic trust is involved in making this statement good and the citizens of Atlanta and the state may rely upon its prompt fulfillment.

The Relief Steamer.

ST. LOUIS, October 3.—Lieut. Benner, of the 18th infantry, and Mr. Hall, who have charge of the expedition for the relief of fever sufferers along the Mississippi river between Memphis and Vicksburg, arrived here last night. Both are northern men and never had the fever, but have been stationed in the south and have no fear of the scourge. The relief steamer, Chambers, is being rapidly loaded and will probably leave to-morrow. Dr. Frank W. Reily, rep[resenting] the Chicago relief committee, go[es] [with the ex]pedition and it is probable th[at] [experime]nts will be made to enable [illegible] value of turpentine as a [illegible] [durin]g the trip.

Col. Hammond Addresses the People of Fayette County on the Issues of the Day—Reuben Rues His Candidacy—Col. Harris and Major Moses Measure Lances in the Fourth.

Special dispatch to The Constitution.

COLUMBUS, October 3, 10:55 P.M.—Hon. Henry R. Harris and Major R. J. Moses, candidates for congress in this district at Buena Vista and Cusseta yesterday and to-day. The time was divided equally between them and they addressed a large and interested audience.

Hon. H. R. Harris gained many friends by both efforts, both of which were pronounced

MOST SPLENDID SPEECHES.

Colonel Harris defined fully his position respecting the national finances, and declared that he stood squarely upon the financial platform of Senator Thurman and the Ohio democracy. His splendid exposition of the "Ohio idea" was convincing and brought to light the nearly unanimous favor in which those financial principles are held in this district.

Col. Harris challenged an examination of his congressional record and defied his traducers to put their fingers upon an official act or utterance not in perfect accord with the sentiments and best interest of the people. His friends and enemies alike acknowledge that he is daily growing in strength all over the district.

THE PERSONAL CANVASS

upon which which Maj. Moses has apparently entered finds little favor among the people, who are disposed to look to the qualities and principles of a candidate, rather than to the personal reasons he advances for opposing rival candidates. Col. Moses gives no other reasonable excuse for his candidacy, and his platform does not offer anything better than that upon which Col. Harris stands.

The opposition to Harris is dividing between Moses and Persons and the triumphant election and endorsement of Harris becomes daily more certain. G.

THE CANDIDATES IN FAYETTE.

Col. Hammond and Uncle Reub in Joint Discussion Again.

Tuesday last a large number of the good people of Fayette gathered in Fayetteville to listen to the political speaking between Cols. Hammond and Arnold, candidates for congress.

The sheriff invited all present into the courthouse and the meeting, composed of a large number of Fayette gentlemen and ladies and some visitors from Jonesboro and Atlanta, was organized by the selection of Mr. William Franklin, an aged gentleman, the father of your excellent townsman, Mr. James H. Franklin, of Franklin & Wilkins as chairman, and E. M. Blalock, Esq., as secretary.

HAMMOND HEARTILY ENDORSED.

The appointment being that of Colonel Hammond, he was introduced to the audience by Colonel R. T. Dorsey in an earnest and glowing effort of brief length. Colonel Dorsey was a member of the Barnesville convention and explained to the audience the causes and manner of the withdrawal of the name of Hon. John D. Stewart, showing conclusively that there was nothing wrong on the part of Hammond's supporters there, but that Judge Speer, the law partner of Colonel Stewart, withdrew the name of that distinguished gentleman in the interest of party harmony. Colouel Dorsey concluded his remarks by a feeling and graceful indorsement of Colonel Hammond [illegible] worthy [illegible] [de]mocratic party. [illegible] Geo[rgia]

COL. HAMMOND'S SPEECH.

Col. Hammond then began his address [illegible] forward, truthful ac[count] of the proceedings had in congress by [illegible] and especially in Fulton county, preliminary the Barnesville convention.

Col. Hammond explained the conduct of the canvass for the nomination on the part of his friends and himself, and showed from the result of the secret ballot in the convention that he was the real choice of a majority of the delegates, and that he was finally unanimously chosen as the democratic cannidate.

Col. Hammond complimented the voters of Fayette on their reliable in the past, and said that ordinarily it was enough for a man of fair character to show that he had been regularly nominated in order to secure the support of the democracy of Fayette.

After a humorous account of the inception of

he gave way to that gentleman, who being introduced, spoke for an hour and a half on the line of his speeches heretofore reported. Much of his speech was humorous in fact or in intention, but it provoked little mirth and no applause.

HAMMOND'S REJOINDER

of thirty minutes proved him a very master of debate. Hie description of the way the greenback nomination was handed around from Pittman to Thurmond, then to Whitaker and finally to Col. Arnold was particularly enjoyable.

THE EFFECT OF THE SPEECHES

was to thoroughly enthuse the voters of Fayette, who, to their praise be it said, were solid for Hammond before. It is believed that Colonel Arnold will not get a vote in the town district, if, indeed, he gets one in the county.

HUNGARY'S OBSTINACY.

The Ministry Finally Throw Up the Sponge.

Special dispatch to The Constitution.

LONDON, October 4.—The Manchester Guardian's Vienna dispatch confirms the report thot the emperor has accepted the resignation of Von. Szell, the Hungarian minister of finance. The other ministers will only withdraw their resignations on acceptance, by the government, of the following conditions: The issue of a joint Austro-Hungarian loan; the conclusion of a convention with the porte: the reduction of the army in Bosnia, and the abandonment of Novi Bazar. The latter condition has been already accepted. The second depends on the porte. The Austrian cabinet approve of a joint loan, which would reduce the Austrian credit to the same level with the Hungarian, therefore a conflict between the two cabinets is imminent.

THE GLASGOW BANK.

Facts Respecting the Big Scotch Failure.

LONDON, October 3.—Much sympathy is felt for the shareholders of the Glasgow. Much of the stock was held by ladies and gentlemen who lived retired on a moderate competency, but now find themselves reduced from circumstances of comfort to absolute poverty. Seven hundred and fifty persons employed by the bank and its branches are affected by the failure.

The Times' financial article says the City of Glasgow Bank had 133 branches, has paid a progressively increasing dividend for several years past until it reached 12 per cent, and it would be incorrect to say the disaster was unexpected. On the contrary, in banking circles it created no surprise, for the bank had been losing credit gradually for ten years past. Yet, Scotch banks in London were not in possession of information which showed that the end was actually near until Tuesday morning. Rumors of the bank being in difficulties had been so often circulated before within strictly banking circles that the repetition of them did not excite particular risk on this occasion [illegible] the business of the bank had [illegible] principles [illegible] enormous scale had been [illegible] three firms, very [illegible] Indian produce and made to the firms, in the iron trade in the north, and an utterly reckless support appears to have been given to builders. The Times further says: We believe we are correct in saying that this deplorable catastrophe is, with reference to Scotch banks as a whole, entirely an exception, and that no other banking institution in Scotland is in any way mixed with the City of Glasgow bank, or have been engaged in business which led to this failure. Attempts have been made by the city to complicate matters by saying there was a panic, but there has been no panic. The bank is in an exceptionally strong position, relative to the extent of business going on, and state affaire is very different to what could have been had the disaster happened to a bank whose soundness had been above suspicion. A financier anticipates no additional bank failures, and says that some mercantile failures can hardly be avoided which may extend to the iron district of Bath, England.

PULLING THE OARS.

HANLON WINS THE GREAT RACE.

Ugly Stories as to the Race Having Been Sold Out in Advance to the Canadians—The National Game—On the Turf—The Australian Cricketers.

BOSTON, October 4.—A Lachine special to the Herald at 9:45 last night, says that the weather is very pleasant. A southwesterly wind is blowing, which ruffles the water a good deal, The residents think there is a prospect of its being sufficiently calm this afternoon to enable the race to be rowed but Courtney anticipates a fresh wind all day.

The New York Herald has a long special from Auburn, N. Y., saying, that Auburn is in a ferment of excitement over a seemingly well-founded story that the great Courtney-Hanlon race has been surely and giving the story by one of Courtney's friends that that the race was a put-up job from the outset. The Hanlon party admitted their man stood no show with Courtney, and the only possible way to get the match on was to sell the race to Hanlon, Courtney to have $4,000 of the citizens' purse for losing the race. In order to prevent giving the gamblers a double chance, he was required to put the entire sum on Hanlon. The special gives other details, and says everybody is now betting on Hanlon.

THE RACE STARTS.

Special dispatch to The Constitution.

LACHINE, October 4.—After a long delay owing to the wind and rough water, the Hanlon-Courtney race started at 4:58 p. m. They took the water together. At two-thirds of a mile Hanlon was two lengths ahead. At the mile post both men were even. At a mile and a half Hanlon was half a length ahead. It is raining hard. At the two miles buoy Hanlon was ahead by about one length. At the two miles post, in passing, Hanlon is leading by only half a length. Courtney seems to gain a little. At 2¼ miles Courtney and Hanlon are neck and neck. In turning the buoy Hanlon turned first. In the third mile Courtney has pushed Hanlon, and they are about even. At 3½ miles Hanlon is still leading. At the four mile buoy Hanlon is still leading by about a length. At 4½ miles Hanlon was leading by 3 lengths.

THE STORY TRUE.

Hanlon won by about two lengths. Time about 35½ minutes. Unofficial.

WELL CONTESTED.

The race was well contested throughout. At the commencement of the fifth and last mile Hanlon took the lead, pulling thirty-one and Courtney thirty-six to the minute. Coming down the home stretch some fine skill was displayed but both men created considerable consternation among the spectators by veering too much to the south and rendering it necessary for both to recover ground. Hanlon eventually came in winner in 36 minutes and 22 seconds. Before reaching the goal, Courtney stopped rowing to avoid a foul, having got into Hanlon's water. The latter's time from turning the buoy at two and a half miles coming down the stream was 14 minutes and 50 seconds. The race was adjudged to Hanlon by a length and a quarter. The winner rowed along side of Courtney and shook the gallant American by the hand very warmly amid loud cheers from the thousands of spectators. The veteran referee declared that it was the most magnificent race he had ever seen.

A WORD IN SEASON.

The Admirable Management of the Central Railroad.

ATLANTA, GA., October 3.—Some two weeks ago I wrote an article on the Central railroad. That article was written because I did not think the Central had been given a fair showing in the press, and because I believed the people of upper Georgia were in the dark as to the vastness of the Central's interests, and the motives of the Central's president. I was certainly when in casual conversation with Mr. Appler, the general western agent, he disclosed to me the intricate and far-reaching lines of rail and steamships, owned and controlled by the Central. The letter, carrying these facts and figures, was very generally read and copied, and evoked considerable comment. A lively interest was created in the matter, and more information was asked for. I am glad to be able to give it this morning. In that article I noted that Central stock had gone up from 25 to 53 in about twelve months. I expressed the belief that it would go up higher in a very short time. I met Mr. John Jones, the banker, yesterday evening. Said he: "There has been a very heavy rise in Central stock. It has gone up about 17 cents in the last two weeks. It was quoted then at 53 cents in the dollar. It is now selling at 70 cents, and there is none offering even at that figure."

VERY CONSIDERABLY ASTONISHED

"How do you get this news?"

"I get it from a most reliable correspondent in Savannah. He writes me that the annual report was finished the other day, and it was discovered that the net earnings were $280,000 more for the year ending on the 1st of September, '78, than for the previous year. It is also known that the net earnings of the road for the month of September just closed was $85,000 more than the same month last year. The demand for the stock is very active, and there is little offering. I am confident it will go to 80 inside of ten days. The road is earning dividends now, and the stock must get up to high figures."

BACK TO ITS OLD HEIGHT.

I was talking the other day with a railroad man, who is not interested in the Central, but who is recognized as a shrewd and observant thinker. Said he: "It is my opinion that the Central will go up steadily until it has reached its old figure away above par. Mr. Wadley has, it appears to me, practiced his system at every point. I cannot see where he could be successfully attacked. And what is better, there seems to be no necessity for any further very great forced outlay. He has made all the extensions necessary. He has secured all the connections that he appears to want. He will of course make further investments, but they will be natural and not forced investments, and can be carried without cutting off his dividends. I think he will.

ABOUT THE MOTIVE FOR ALL THIS.

There may be some one who will say that I am "bulling" this stock. Why bless my soul! I hardly know what "bulling" means. Not a single official of the Central suspected that either of my articles were going to appear until they saw them in print. None of them have the remotest idea that anything will appear in this morning's paper. I write to do justice to a Georgia enterprise that has had scant justice at the hands of Georgia journalists. H. W. G

A GUANO GENTLEMAN.

A Criminal Who Would Do Honor to Massachusetts.

Monday last Mr. J. W. Ashley, of this city, and Officer G. W. Speer, of the police force, left this city for Macon. The object of their visit was to make a search for and arrest Mr. J. L. Nicholson, of that city, and formerly of Nicholson & Spruse, who have for the past three years been acting as agents for J. R. Black & Co.'s fertilizers, manufactured at Abbeville, South Carolina. These parties were agents for the southern states and sold county and farm rights. Some time ago the copartnership was disselved and Mr. Nicholson has since then been running the business and pocketing the money. As no returns or reports had been received by the manufacturers from the agents they instructed Mr. Ashley to go to Macon, arrest Mr. Nicholson, and perfect with him. Messrs. Ashley and Speer reached Macon at a late hour in the afternoon and commenced at once to search for their man. As he was well known, having made Macon his headquarters for two years past, these gentlemen had no difficulty in coming up with him.

THE BEST SETTLEMENT POSSIBLE

At 9 o'clock they entered a faro bank in the rear of the new Brown house building and found the object of their search sitting at a faro table betting as though

HE WAS A MILLIONAIRE.

An arrest was at once made and Nicholson was carried to jail, where he remained locked up until the following day. A warrant was sworn out before United States Commissioner Freeman on Tuesday by Mr. Ashley, charging Nicholson with larceny after trust. The case came up before the commissioner and a compromise effected by the prisoner turning over to Mr. Ashly, the agent of the company all papers, notes and accounts. Upon doing this Nicholson was at once released from custody. The matter was admirably managed by Mr. Ashley and Officer Speer and the delicate duty devolving upon them was executed with

JUDGMENT AND DISPATCH.

During the two years that Nicholson has resided in Macon he has lived in a most extravagant style, driving fine horses and living on the best that money could procure. Nightly, he would tackle the game of "tiger," and was considered one of the heaviest players in the city. Frequently his losses were quite heavy, but this did not seem to set him back in the least. He always has had plenty of money and spent it on every hand in the most extravagant manner. When he left Atlanta for Macon he carried with him a female of doubtful character, who assisted him in spending his money. This woman left him several months ago, and returned to Atlanta. Mr. Ashley is of the impression that Nicholson is a defaulter to the amount of

FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

He made sales of rights to thousands of farms in Bibb and adjoining counties, and collected the money whenever an opportunity offered itself. The receipts he appropriated and made no return to the manufacturers of the fertilizers.

In addition to the above, the Macon Telegraph and Messenger of yesterday publishes the following: "In yesterday's issue the arrest of J. L. Nicholson, who has been selling rights for the sale of J. R. Black & Co.'s fertilizer without making returns, was noted, and the manner in which he was subsequently released by giving up all papers in his possession. He was not intimidated in the least by his narrow escape from the rigors of the law, and yesterday proceeded to practice the same fraud which he has been working for the last three years. After the settlement on Tuesday, Nicholson inquired of Mr. Ashley, attorney of the company, of Atlanta, when he would return, and was informed that he would leave that night or in the morning. He did not leave, however, and yesterday morning accidentally came across Mr. T. M. Mosely, of Monroe county, to whom Nicholson had just sold a right for $75 in cash and his note for $200. He wrote out and signed the deed, assigning the territory and even supplying blanks and circulars to Mr. Mosely. He even went so far as to ante-date the contract to September 30. The contract had two witnesses who will swear they saw it signed yesterday. When these facts came to the knowledge of Mr. Moseley he took out a warrant against Nicholson, and, with three policemen, started after him. They found him in a gambling house engaged in a game of faro. He was lodged in the county jail. He will have a preliminary trial in a day or two. This is one of the most daring cases [illegible] a situation for a length of time with [illegible] will probably [illegible] the state for Nicholson.

NEW YORK, October 3.—At the Fitz-John Porter trial to-day Captain Douglass Pope was called for cross examination by Porter's counsel, the object being to prove if he insisted in confirming his previous testimony, and that he had made subsequent statements in conversation contradictory of his evidence as to the 4:30 p. m. order. Witness denied that he ever said he lost his way when he started with the order from Pope to Porter. Col. Moole, of the 3d United States infantry, declared positively that Pope repeatedly said in his hearing that he got lost on the 29th of August in carrying the 4:30 p. m. order, and did not reach Porter till near dark. Upon being cross-examined, Col. Moole said that his relations with Capt. Pope always were, and still are, friendly, and that he was reluctant to give the testimony. Lieut. F. D. Kones, of the 37th infantry, gave testimony similar to that of Moole.

The Constitution.

ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 4, 1878.

We publish in another column two articles, by request, about the Southern Pacific railroad.

From Senator Bayard's point of vision, the white house is a mere speck upon the political horizon.

Dr. J. G. Thomas has been requested to become a member of the yellow fever commission. It is to be hoped he will accept. He has made the study of sanitary science a specialty, and is one of the most learned physicians in the country.

The stock of the Central railroad has increased twenty cents on the dollar in two weeks. It is is now selling at seventy-three cents. Let us shake hands again, Mr. Wadley! The truth is, if you will continue to make friends as you have during the past two weeks up here, your stock will be at par. The business of the company for the month of September is a large increase over the business of September one year ago.

"A Southern Democrat," writing to the Chicago Tribune from Savannah, begs to be permitted to receive General Butler into the democratic fold. The proposition, if we understand matters, is somewhat premature. The correspondent of the Tribune is too southern a democrat to properly appreciate the difficulties that stand in the way of a thorough and loving embrace of Butler. These difficulties are various and vital. They protrude with a persistence that is not only painful, but almost agonizing. As an idle spectator, we are perfectly willing to applaud the possibility that may make Benjamin governor of the entire state of Massachusetts, but as to taking him into the democratic party—that is quite another matter. "A Southern Democrat" should adjust his conservatism to some healthier gauge.

"Concessions" to Republicans.

We have endeavored to impress upon the minds of the honest voters of Georgia the fact that the success of independentism means the ultimate success of republicanism. A prominent republican—a man who has given more time and attention to the cause of his party in this state than all others put together—in speaking of the independents yesterday made use of these words, to which we beg to call the [illegible] in the welfare of the democracy: "Wherever you see the republicans supporting an independent candidate you may be sure that he has made some concessions [illegible]." This was [illegible] of an animated conversation, and the admission was made inadvertently, but it was afterwards repeated [illegible] and if we were at liberty to give the name of the republican, none of our readers would doubt it. "Wherever you see the republicans supporting an independent candidate, you may be sure that he has made some concession to the republican leaders." Here is food for thought and ground for prompt and determined action on the part of the democrats.

Only the other day Colonel James L. Seward, who was an independent candidate in the second district, withdrew from the race. We are reliably informed that he withdrew because he would not make the "concessions" which Putney and other republicans demanded of him as the price of republican support. These "concessions" were such that he could not entertain, and he withdrew from the contest in disgust. In view of these things, every democratic voter has a duty to perform. He should stand firmly by the party. Even without the admission we have put upon record, it is unreasonable to suppose that the republican vote will be thrown for any candidate without some sort of consideration. Let us stand by the democratic organization.

Kimpton and Gov. Rice.

Governor Rice, of Massachusetts, has been goaded into making a defense of his refusal to surrender Hiram H. Kimpton on the requisition of Governor Hampton, of South Carolina. Every fair-minded paper in his state, from the Springfield Republican to the humblest sheets, has denounced his action in the premises. This denunciation has come about as freely from republican as from democratic papers; and the result is seen in Gov. Rice's ill-natured and undignified letter that we published yesterday morning. No wonder that its author does not want the future historian to find in the files of the executive office Governor Hampton's unanswerable note. We cannot greatly blame him; for he has simply acted up to weak human nature in his desire to keep out of his office a document that fastens upon him one of the most unjustifiable acts ever committed by the head of a state.

Governor Rice's only defense consists in the statement that he took care to ascertain the facts involved, and that in the course of the inquiry he did find out that Kimpton was not wanted as a criminal, but as a witness. This is no defense at all, even if based on the truth. Judge Longworth, of Cincinnati, a distinguished jurist, recently had occasion to pass upon the law governing the extradition of criminals from one state to another; and he upholds in every respect the stand taken by Gov. Hampton. The case in Ohio arose on a requisition from the governor of Pennsylvania. Judge Longworth held that the governor of Ohio, to whom it was addressed, had no right to inquire into the guilt or innocence of the accused, but only to determine the legality of the process, and whether the person in custody is in truth the person described in the requisition. The meaning of the constitutional provision is as plain as words can make it. It says: "A person charged [illegible] son, felony or crime [illegible] justice, and be found [illegible] on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime."

This clause of the federal constitution clearly gives the governor of a state [illegible] greater discretion than Judge Longworth has stated. Any other construction would lead to a hopeless [illegible] in the execution of justice and serious differences among the states; happily, no other [illegible] can reasonably be placed [illegible] construction [illegible] on the words of the constitution.

Judge Longworth further holds that the direction [illegible] of the internal comity between the states, and power of legislating in regard to the extradition of prisoners [illegible] from one state to another, belongs exclusively to the federal government. The power to legislate and direct necessarily involves the executive power to enforce the powers delegated to the federal authorities and the judicial jurisdiction to inquire into and correct violations of the laws passed under this general authority. This is both good sense and good law. Let Gov. Hampton bring the action of the rebellious and obstreperous Rice before the United States supreme court. After a decision from that court of the questions involved, it will be time to inquire what general statute is needed to enforce the powers wisely delegated to the general government relative to the extradition of prisoners. Gov. Hampton is the right man to bring Massachusetts up to a respect for the provisions of a constitution that she has disregarded whenever it suited her prejudices to do so. Now is the time to take the old nullification nonsense out of her. There would be poetic justice in it. The country would look on and applaud. We hope Gov. Hampton will pursue the matter until the law governing it is made so plain that even a Massachusetts governor dare not disobey it—until the robber Kimpton is in the hands of a court of South Carolina for trial. Gov. Rice's peculiar court for the acquittal of political friends should at all events be abolished.

General Toombs and the Independents.

General Toombs did not attend the Felton meeting at Adairsville, as he was advertised to do, and he has therefore written a letter instead. It is the longest letter we have ever seen from General Toombs and is not at all characteristic. He has frequently boasted that he only requires the space of ten lines in which to annihilate an opponent, but in this case he has written nearly three columns, and it is but simple justice to General Toombs himself to say that it is a very labored production. It is a very able letter as to style, and its sole weakness is the effort on the part of General Toombs to make an argument in favor of the organized democracy fit Dr. Felton. The general is fond of carrying his quaint humor to the very verge of grimness, and in reading his letter we cannot but believe that he is indulging in one of those practical jokes which great men are fond of playing; for it seems to us that it is certainly having fun at Dr. Felton's expense to write a letter in favor of the organized democracy and therein endorse the independent candidate. General Toombs is master of that peculiar sarcasm which cuts and smiles and smiles and cuts, and his letter is a very fine specimen of his powers in that direction.

[illegible] the democratic party and cataloguing the corrupt and fraudulent acts of the republican party, General Toombs says of the latter: "This party [illegible] destroyed. IT IS THE FIRST GREATEST WORK TO BE DONE BY THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY." We have taken the liberty of emphasizing this [illegible] to prove [illegible] really in favor of Lester. The entire platform of the democracy is contained in the crisp quotation we have made from General Toombs's letter. The republican party must be destroyed. That is the only issue now before the country, and that is the argument we have been using against the independents and the independent greenbackers. The question of financial reform, as well as the question as to whether conventions should be abolished, is altogether of minor importance. The one great reform that must be brought about before there can be any other reform is the destruction of the republican party. Until that is done, there can be no reform of any kind; until that is done there can be no substantial prosperity in the land. But how is it to be brought about? What means are to be employed to break down and destroy the republican organization? What is General Toombs's remedy? It seems almost like a burlesque of argument to make these inquiries, but General Toomb's logic is burlesque logic. According to his view, the republican party must be destroyed by breaking down and demoralizing the democracy. That is what the support of Dr. Felton means, and General Toombs knows this as well as any one. He knows that the independent movement embodies the support of no principle and no reform. It is vitalized by personal partizanship and opposition to the democratic organization. For this reason it has the sympathy of the republicans and the support of the sway-backers. General Toombs is a very able man and an experienced politician, and he has the respect and confidence of the people of Georgia, but, with all his great talents, he cannot convince any one that the proper way to destroy the republican party is to break down and disintegrate the democracy. It is too absurd to call for argument, and for that reason we are inclined to believe that the eccentric old statesman is endeavoring to have a little fun at the expense of Dr. Felton. Nothing that could have been written would show with greater clearness and vigor than the general's letter the utter madness and folly of independentism. We prefer, therefore, to believe that he is joking, when, after arguing that the destruction of republicanism "is the first greatest work to be done by the democratic party," he announces that he is for Felton. Humor could not reach a greater degree of grimness.

A Word to an Iowa Stalwart.

Circumstances are continually involving us in pleasant little controversies with the editor of the Burlington Hawkeye. They are pleasant, because the editor, although a stalwart republican, is invariably courteous. In the last issue of the Hawkeye, we find the following:

> When we read papers published in the south which give such evidence as The Constitution, and some other exchanges do, of ability and enterprise, we are surprised that they do not see that the grandest opportunity that has ever been offered to the south was, and is, that of heartily and unanimously accepting the results of the war, pushing the return to a sound financial basis and a stable [illegible] and the guarantee in every part of [illegible] of civil and political feedom, in [illegible] and that they have ever failed [illegible] upon their readers. So long as any [illegible] is pursued in the south, so long as there is any political opinions which dare not be expressed in any state of this union, so long as there is any county in South Carolina, or in any other state, in which the republican or any other party, black [illegible] cannot hold a meeting [illegible] or white, without being assaulted, shot and warned, just so long [illegible] war of rebellion is not ended.

From the stand point of an Iowa stalwart, this is no doubt very neatly put, and we can well imagine with what vigor the sutlers rattled their canteens by way of applause; but from the stand-point of a southern democrat it needs explanation. What are the results of the war, and which particular one has the south refused to accept? Not emancipation, surely. The negroes are free and there are not five men in a thousand who would be in favor of re-enslaving them, even if such a thing were practicable. It cannot be negro suffrage. We may have fought against it for a time as an outrage against the intelligence and best interests of the country, but that day is past. We are in favor of negro suffrage. We can perceive now that the hand of providence was in it. We see how it can be used to aid the south in the development of her prosperity and power. We would not take from the colored people the right to vote if we could. The severe experience which they gained from the republican carpet-baggers has accomplished what argument and reason failed to do. The lesson was a hard one, but they have learned that the white people of the south are the only friends they have, and that the interests of the two races are identical. They have learned that what is good for the southern white is equally as good for the southern negro. They have learned that the prosperity of one race depends upon the prosperity of the other. This is the meaning of the democratic majority in Georgia of 80,000. With the colored vote the future of the south is assured. Without it, we would lose our power in congress.

Certainly we have accepted these results of the war. Are there any others that we have not accepted? It cannot be that our highly esteemed contemporary of the Hawkeye alludes to the amendments to the constitution. We opposed these most strenuously, but we have accepted them. They amount to nothing. The courts have stripped them of their power to injure the south. Their ostensible purpose was to protect the colored people in his rights, but their real intent was to humiliate the south. We have passed through the valley of humiliation. The supreme patience of our people has extracted all the stings with which reconstruction bristled. The southern negro needs no protection beyond that which the value of his vote gives him. We have therefore accepted the amendments. Practically they are nonentities, because the negro is protected by the fact that his vote counts one in a ballot-box.

As to the financial business, we can assure the Hawkeye that the people of the south are in favor of none other than a sound currency, but they believe that its volume can be largely increased and that it will still be as good as gold. They believe that money should be made cheaper and more plentiful. They believe that its volume should be so increased that the holder of inactive capital will be glad to loan it at a reasonable rate of interest, instead of hoarding it away for a rise or fall in gold.

In conclusion, and speaking for Georgia, it is perhaps unnecessary to remark that republicans are subjected to no out[illegible] the editor of our Iowa contemporary to address a note of inquiry to J. E. Bryant of this city [illegible] nor are they interfered with. They hold their meetings in peace and carry on their campaigns unmolested. It is not to be supposed that the stalwart editor of the Hawkeye is willing to believe the war of the rebellion is ended. The campaign he is making would fall through; the sutlers would put their canteens in pickle and retire to private life. Nevertheless the war is over, and the south is endeavoring to move forward to political as well as material prosperity. Does not the Hawkeye wish us well?

The strong right arm of the gifted editor of the New York Tribune has again been thrust into the much-used bung-hole of the barrel containing Mr. Manton Marble's collection of cipher dispatches. We have been very patient thus far, but there is a time in the affairs of men when patience ceased to be virtuous. If the editor of the Tribune has any patriotism at all, he will yoke Mr. Marble and Mr. Hewitt together and lead them gently out of the country.

Boutwell has been located. A hole has just been discovered in the planet mercury.

Stillson Hutchins, of the Washington Post, relates a mythical story about General Phil. Cook and confederate money. But we forgive him. Any man who knows enough about human nature to give Saturday night suppers should never have his statements contradicted.

The general who would disband his army when he knew that certain victory awaited him would be known in history as either a traitor or a fool. The independents, however, who are doing all in their power to break up the democratic party are alluded to in milder terms.

There were seven delegates in the bogus greenbackers convention that nominated Reuby for congress. Who elected them? Who elected Uncle Daniel Pittman? Who appointed Whitaker and Thurman, and who in the name of common sense selected the Hon. George McKinney, colored.

Wirt Sykes's female husband is known in Europe as Oliver Logan.

Who dictated John Sherman's recent letters on the financial question? It is certain that they were written by different persons.

It would be a great step in the direction of democratic harmony if Captain Persons and Colonel Moses were to retire from the race in favor of Mr. Harris.

Matt O'Brien, of Columbus, is the only autumn poet in Georgia. He writes with a vigor and fierceness altogether foreign to this exceedingly sunny clime.

And come out in the back yard
And I'll wipe the ground with ye!

To Yellow Fever Sufferers.

5 OUT OF SIX OF MY HOUSEHOLD, near Moscow, Tenn., have lately had the yellow fever, prevailing in this section. All of them recovered, the attacks being mitigated and their recovery being due, as I belive, to the use of Bedford Alum & Iron Springs Mass, which was used in their cases, and before their being attacked. I make this statement for the benefit of others who may be afflicted with this dread disease, and to put in their reach the knowledge of this great remedy. S. M. DAVIS.

The Constitution.

ROUNDABOUT IN GEORGIA.

The Augusta Evening Sentinel has made its appearance. It is neat, newsy and bright, and will be a lively addition to Augusta journalism.

Mumford, of the Talbotton Standard, isn't in favor of outside papers expressing a preference for candidates in the fourth district. Mumford should keep cool. Whoever is elected from the fourth will represent Georgia in congress. Every democrat should be interested.

The Atlanta fair is going to be a bigger thing than even Wrenn anticipated, and he had some very huge ideas about it.

Savannah is letting up on her sensations. There hasn't been a serious row down there since day before yesterday.

It is probable that General Gordon will make several speeches in the seventh. Others of our leading men might follow his example with profit to their popularity.

The New Departure, of Newnan, has been changed into a weekly. It is edited by Miss Maggie C. McKinnis, and is an exceedingly bright little publication. Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, of this city, is among the contributors.

Colonel Hammond will speak at Zebulon on the 15th and at Thomaston on the 23d.

There are more good newspapers in Georgia than in any state in the union.

Smithy Clayton is not as warm for Speer as he was. The honeymoon seems to be about over.

The South and the Texas Pacific.

St. Louis Republican.

Some men are constitutional grumblers, fault-finders and objectors. If you do them a kindness, they grumble because it is not greater, or because some one else shares in the benefaction. On this principle a very few men in the south are hard to please in the matter of a Southwestern Pacific railroad. While admitting the supreme necessity of such an agency in the country, and its vital importance to southern interests, they find fault because it cannot be built without money, and because other portions of the country will enjoy some of its benefits.

Ex-Senator Norwood, of Georgia, made a speech before the citizens of Savannah, at the Merchant's exchange of that city, on the 11th of September, in which he is reported to have said that Mr. Scott first applied for a subsidy of $60,000,000, saying that he could not complete the Texas Pacific railway from Fort Worth to San Diego without it; that this being refused, he asked for $38,500,000, and for this he still petitions congress. He further said that Huntington, of the Southern Pacific of California asked for no subsidy, no money or credit to build the same road through Arizona and New Mexico.

This is a very incorrect, not to say false, representation of the matter. In the first place, the Huntington bill does ask for a subsidy of some 18,000,000 acres of land, and the Texas Pacific bill asks for no money subsidy, and transfers back to the government the land already granted to be sold and the proceeds held as part of a sinking fund to extinguish the principal of the company's not the government's bonds. It has been explained a hundred times that all the Texas Pacific company ask from the government is a guarantee of five per cent. interest on their construction bonds to enable them to sell those bonds at par, build the road at one-third the cost per mile of the Central and Southern Pacific, and thus be prepared to transport passengers and freight at one-half the present charges of those railroads. To thoroughly secure the government from loss the company give a first lien on all the property acquired, the transportation of government troops, stores, mails, Indian supplies and telegraphic service, the net earnings of the completed road and a deposit of $5,000 per mile in bonds to be sold at any time to meet any possible delay or default of the company in paying interest. The whole amount of bonds that the company can issue before the completion of the road to San Diego is $31,750,000, the annual interest on which is $1,587,500 or less than $1,133 per mile of completed road. If the reserve bonds ($7,000,000) are afterwards allowed to be issued for the purpose of building branches or extensions, they would only increase the annual interest to $1,384 per mile. This is all the government would be responsible for, and while this is amply secured, the same government would reap a benefit of five or six millions a year by lowering the cost of border transportation, the care and control of the Indians, and the transportation of troops, mails, etc. Added to this would be a large increase in government revenue from the trade developed with Mexico.

To the commerce of the country the completion of this road, with its charter restrictions and heavy penalties upon all combinations, discriminations or exorbitant charges, would be worth several millions a year. The building of the Huntington road would not, and could not, make a competitive line to the present Pacific monopolies. Nothing but an open highway on the thirty-second parallel, subject to the supervision and regulation of congress, can save the inter-oceanic commerce of the country from the grievous burdens hitherto imposed upon it. Even Chicago, in one sense the terminus of the Union and Central Pacific, understands this matter thoroughly, and her merchants and her leading papers have vehemently protested against the continuance of the abuse, and are earnestly in favor of the completion of the Texas Pacific. While the line of this road will pass through the heart of the southern states on its shortest route to the Atlantic, and help to make that country all Eden instead of half wilderness, yet neither Chicago, St. Louis or any other great city is disturbed about having its proper share of the traffic. Every city, from Savannah to Boston, and all through the interior, north or south, will have just such share of the benefits as its energy, enterprise and business facilities will command. Let us have a competing line, and not the extension of a rapacious monopoly on any terms.

"I Can Do Nothing for Them."

San Francisco, September 9, 1878.

To the Editor of the N. O. Picayune:

I beg to inform you, and through you the people of the south, of the following fact:

When the committee to solicit subscriptions for the aid of the yellow fever sufferers called on ex-Gov. Stanford of this state his reply was, "I can do nothing for them."

Mr. Standford is one of the wealthiest men in this state—is president of the Central Pacific railroad, and about the only one who has refused to contribute.

Mr. Sandford and others will come before congress this fall soliciting aid and subsidies to build his Southern Pacific railroad. Let southern senators and representatives have in mind his course towards our people and act accordingly. Yours, etc., Rex.

LIVER REMEDIES.

DR. M. W. CASE'S Liver Remedy AND BLOOD PURIFIER

Tonic and Cordial.

This is not a patent medicine, but is prepared under the direction of Dr. M. W. Case, from his favorite prescription, which in an extensive practice of over twenty-seven years he has found most effective in all cases of disordered liver or impure blood. It is

ANTI-BILIOUS.

It acts directly upon the liver, restoring it when diseased to its normal condition; and in regulating the activity of this great gland every other organ of the system is benefited. In Blood Diseases it has no equal as a purifier. It improves digestion, and assists nature to eliminate all impurities from the system; and while it is the cheapest medicine in the market, it is also superior to all known remedies. While it is more effectual than Blue Mass, it is mild and perfectly safe, containing nothing that can in the slightest degree injure the system. It does not sicken or give pain; neither does it weaken the patient, nor leave the system constipated, as do most other medicines.

It Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Billious Fever, Headache, Sick Headache, Water-Brash, Heartburn, Sick Stomach, Jaundice, Colic, Vertigo, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Female Irregularities and Weakness, all Skin and Blood Diseases, Worms, Fever and Ague, and Constipation of the Bowels.

In small doses it is also a sure cure for Chronic Diarrhœa.

Taken two or three times a day, it prevents Yellow Fever, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Cholera, and Small-Pox.

HOW TO BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR Use Dr. Case's Liver Remedy and Blood Purifier, a pleasant Tonic and Cordial. ANTI-BILIOUS.

And save your doctor bills. Only 25 cts. a bottle. It is the most effective and valuable medicine ever offered to the American people. As fast as its merits become known, its use becomes universal in every community. No family will be without it after having once tested its great value. It has proved an inestimable blessing to thousands who have used it, bringing back health and strength to those who were seemingly at death's door. Prepared at the Laboratory of the

THROUGH THE CITY.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Judge Fleming G. DuBignon, of Baldwin county, is a guest of the Kimball.

Mr. Henry R. Jewett, a prominent citizen of Macon, is in the city, registered at the Markham.

Colonel Clifford Anderson, one of Macon's most prominent lawyers, is registered at the Markham.

Mr. J. H. Lewis, editor of the Greensboro Herald, arrived in Atlanta yesterday after spending two months in New York. He has been enjoying a rare pleasure for an editor, but says he likes Georgia best after all.

Major W. S. Bassenger, one of the most prominent members of the Savannah bar and the commander of the Savannah Volunteer Guards battalion, passed through the city yesterday on his return home from Virginia.

Mr. W. B. Baldwin, brother of Mr. Ed. A. Baldwin, formerly of this city, but for two years past a resident of New Orleans, we are glad to be able to state has entirely recovered from his recent attack of yellow fever and has returned to his regular business.

Colonel Frobel has been summoned to appear before the court martial sitting at Army buildings, New York, as a witness in the celebrated Fitz-John Porter case. Col. Frobel took an active part in the battle of Manassas as chief of artillery in Hood's division, and his evidence is deemed important in this connection. Col. Frobel left for New York last night by the Air-Line route.

The many friends and admirers of Atlanta's prominent and well-known vocalist, Mrs. J. L. Robertson, will be pleased to hear, after a contest with many of the prominent musicians of eastern cities, she has been chosen leading soprano of the grand old church corner Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street, New York city. This is a triumph for the musical talent of our city, of which we are justly proud.

SIDEWALK NOTES.

Hopeful news from Chattanooga.

The grand stand at the park is undergoing repairs.

There is quite a number of Mobile people in the city.

All the Georgia male colleges opened Wednesday.

Betting on local elections is lively. Everybody is confident.

Everybody is praying for a frost to help the stricken cities.

Look out for the rainy spell which usually begins our fall weather.

Have the amateur minstrels forever dissolved their association?

Let 'er rain! We have not had a good shower in several weeks.

The Alerts will probably enter for the base ball prize at the fair.

We should like to see a good troupe at the opera house before the fair.

Three or four new cotton firms have opened up in our city this season.

Atlanta is filled with refugees, and our citizens are real glad to see them.

Half starved tramps are arriving every day and reporting at the station house.

Somehow contributions to the fever sufferers seem to have come to a stand still.

The condition of our sewers is greatly improved from what they were two years since.

Model Sunday-school at First Baptist church to-night.

Don't forget the Sunday-school meeting at First Baptist church to-night.

The streets every afternoon show how many people there are in town. Atlanta is full.

The hop at the Markham last night was the first of a series to be given this season at this elegant hotel.

Oysters, shrimps, fish, crabs and other good things are here to tempt the appetite and drain the pocket.

Let us have another show at once. Give us something good. Our people are ready to join in the procession.

Nickel boxes are patronized very seldom at present, many of our peaple have given out all they can spare.

Entries for the races, either running or trotting, will remain open until the day before each race comes off.

Manager John Lowry, of the Markham house theatrical troupe, will visit our city next week with his fine company.

Large numbers of entries are being made every day at the secretarys office of the North Georgia Stock and Fair association.

A stable of running horses is expected next week from Charlote N. C. They say that there are several fine ones in the stable.

Out of the large numbers of refugees who sought shelter in ou city to escape the yellow fever only one death has occurred.

Nearly every room at the hotels of our city have been secured by parties who will visite our city during the coming fair.

The entertainment given by the children at the Markham Wednesday night was a most pleasant affair, and was witnessed by quite a large crowd.

The premium offered by the North Georgia stock and fair association for the best base ball club is attracting considerable attention all over the state.

The entries of five more running horses were made yesterday. This makes the total number of leapers entered so far twenty-five. Other entries are looked for by to-day's mails.

A Griffin girl, who visited Columbus recently, became so demoralized that when she returned home her friends presented her with a medal for the champion gum chewer of the state.

The drapery hanging over the doors of the Southern Express company's office will remain there thirty days as a tribute of respect to the memory of the employees of the company who died with the yellow fever in the infected section.

THE SONS OF MARS.

MILITARY CONTESTS AT OUR FAIR.

The Grandest Display of the Whole Week—The Citizen Soldiery in Generous Rivalry for the Plume of Victory—Notes and News of Interest.

Every day it becomes more and more apparent that our fair is to be a big success. A list of entries already made for the races was published yesterday. There are already not less than thirty-five hores entered and ready to contest for the liberal purses offered by the association. The number will probably run to a full hundred.

But one feature of the fair scarcely less attractive than the races will be the contest between the various military companies which have determined to enter.

Atlanta will put in two, if not three, companies. The other Georgia cities will furnish at least three more. From outside the state we may look for three others, making in all good companies, whose maneuvres for the prize money the big crowds will watch with interest. We are confident that our boys will do themselves honor in the contest, and the fact that they are to meet some of the best military skill in the country should make them do all the better. The contest of the

AT LEAST NINE

will be close and interesting. There may be seven or eight entries. Atlanta has three good colored companies and tiere are a dozen more in the state. The total amount offered in money as military prizes is being by far the largest amount ever so offered in the state. It is certain that there is to be a sharp contest for the individual prize of $50 offered for the best drilled man come from where he may, and for the beautiful Stevens jewel, offered by J. P. Stevens & Co., of Atlanta, for the best drilled man in Georgia. It is now worn by Mr. Ed. Rheinhardt, of the Gate City Guards, he having borne it off last October over the heads of a long line of competitors. It is to be the subject of another tacticious test of the coming fair. Mr. Rheinhardt will be hard to beat, as he drills with rare skill and caution. He will have a host of competitors and the best man will win.

AN ALABAMA ENTRY.

We learn that Mr. Paul Sanginnetti, quartermaster sergeant of the Montgomery Greys, will enter for the individual prize. He has the fame of being the best drilled man in Alabama, and it will take a fine fellow to beat him. We hear of other entries from outside of Georgia. It is possible that the Montgomery Greys will enter. It is considered one of the best disciplined in the south.

In this connection we will state that the Governor's Guards, of Atlanta, think of going to the LaGrange fair on the 15th to enter for the $250 military prize offered there. The West Point and LaGrange companies have entered and Columbus may send over one of her crack companies. Our boys should go down and take part in the fun. They will find LaGrange a royally good place, and will not regret their venture, no matter whether they win or not.

MACON CIRCUIT.

No. 4. Argument concluded.

No. 7. Cook vs the commissioners of Houston county. Equity, from Houston. Eli Warren, B. M. Davis, W. S. Wallace, S. Hall, for plaintiff in error. Lanier & Anderson, H. M. Holtzclaw, S. D. Killen, contra.

At the conclusion of the argument of Mr. Holtzclaw, the court adjourned until 10 A. M., to-morrow.

In the second case above stated, Judge James Jackson being disqualified, the governor designated Judge McCutcheon, of the Cherokee circuit, to preside in his stead.

The United States Courts.

The United States circuit and district courts for the southern district of Georgia, to be held at Savannah on the 7th of November next, will be adjourned over by order of the respective judges thereof to Monday, the 18th of November, for the reason that the judges will be detained in Atlanta by the unusual amount of business in this court which will cause the term to be extended into November.

POLICE POINTS.

Willis Jarrell, of the police force, is one of the shrewdest detectives in the state.

Capt. M. M. White is one of the most fleet-footed officers on the police force.

Tom Veal is little but he is loud, and makes a good officer.

Dick Haynes is as good an officer as he is good looking.

Ere many days the police force will put their bath tub into winter quarters.

The cells at the police station are white-washed and the floors scoured out every week or two.

Several hogs are impounded in the lot in the rear of the station house awaiting claimants.

Capt. Arthur Connally is considered one of the handsomest men on the force, and is as efficient as he is good looking.

In all probability, Col. L. P. Thomas is the most efficient chief of the police that Atlanta ever had.

Atlanta should feel proud of her police force. For its size it is the most efficient in the south.

Willis King, it is said, wears a peculiar kind of shoe that gives him the speed of a deer.

Gen. Tige Anderson, one of the captains of our police force, is as regular as clock-work with his duties. He makes a most efficient officer.

A negro attempted to break into Capt. M. M. White's house a few nights ago, but the captain was too soon for him and he had to use his heels to good advantage to escape.

It is said that Capt. Bill Flynn wears tar on his hands. Whether this be so or not, one thing is certain, a prisoner never gets loose from his clutches.

Those who have to call at the station house frequently on business trips, say that Maj. D. A. Cook is a most obliging officer, and at all times takes pleasure in giving all the information asked for.

Policeman Starnes delights in getting hold of an intricate case to work up. These kind of cases just fit him and he seems to get to the bottom of them no matter how cold the trail is.

One of the female pets at the station house was so noisy and unmanageable yesterday that it was found necessary to put her in the dungeon. In that dark hole she managed to exercise her lungs to their fullest extent, by keeping up a continuous yelling for several hours.

A Musical Treat.

Many of the music-loving people of Atlanta will remember with pleasure the visit of Mr. Charles A. Capwell, a most pleasing young gentleman and a decided musical genius, who has been in our city for two weeks past. Competent critics pronounce him without a superior at the organ, with which instrument he is especially familiar, being the general agent of the Estey organ company.

By request, Mr. Capwell met a number of ladies and gentlemen at the Second Baptist church last night and entertained them for two hours with renditions of some of the finest compositions for the organ. A full band of finest performers would not have commanded more decided attention than did Mr. Capwell with the organ alone. The entertainment was varied with songs from Mrs. E. S. Kendrick, one of Atlanta's most popular vocalists, Mrs. Clarance A. Angier, whose sweet contralto voice is a very pleasing addition to our musical circle, and Mr. George K. Camp, one of our finest basso singers.

It was with regret that the audience heard the beautiful notes of Mendehlson's Wedding March, which concluded the evening's entertainment.

Hop at the Markham.

Last night there was a hop at the Markham, which was attended by a large but select company of ladies and gentlemen. Not only was Atlanta society well represented but some of our visiting friends from other cities graced the occasion with their presence. The programme of dances was enjoyed from the first with unusual zeal to the strains of a fine band. Promenades and pleasant little incidents so diversified the evening hours that they passed in unwonted swiftness, and when the time arrived for dispersal it was the general opinion that it was the only unpleasant event of the hop. There will be frequent hops at the Markham this season.

In the bright autumnal days the temptation to comfortable exposure yields its fruit in a most pernicious cough and irritation of the throat. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup stands unrivaled as a remedy for throat and lung diseases. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

PETTY IN PARIS.

AND

The Doings of the U. S. Commission.

BY SAM W. SMALL, ("OLD SI.")

In the next issue of THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION, we will begin a series of breezy and interesting sketches under the above title, from the pen of Mr. Small, of our editorial staff, who spent several months in Paris with the U. S. commission. These sketches will present in narrative and romantic style the results of several months observations in the gay capital of France during the period of the great international exposition. The most interesting features of that splendid show will be fully set forth, and the surrounding episodes photographed in a manner to make them real to the reader.

The sketches will also embrace descriptions of the features of French domestic life in all the classes of society, and contain interviews with representative men from Gambetta and Leon Say down to the cochers and the ouvriers. These sketches will comprise a commentary upon the political and social features of French life, more perfect than has ever before been offered through the channel of newspaper literature.

The methods and manner of the representation made at the great exposition by the United States will be treated in these sketches with a thorough knowledge of the facts, and a candor of statement that will put the matter in its true light before the American people.

All who know Mr. Small's style and taste in composition and his facility for grouping interesting details will find in these papers a rich treat.

With these sketches added the WEEKLY CONSTITUTION will be largely increased in value to subscribers. In addition it contains in each issue the cream of the telegraphic and local news of the week, the most pertinent editorial from the columns of the daily and a specially prepared department devoted to the choicest agricultural reading of the day. It is the best weekly for the farm and the fireside in the south. This is an excellent time to send in subscriptions:

A Sad Funeral.

Yesterday afternoon there was at the Central Presbyterian church one of the saddest funerals that we have ever known to occur in our city.

A few lines in yesterday's issue announced the death of Miss Eugenia Gilbert, daughter of Mr. Theo. Gilbert, one of the oldest and most highly respectable citizens of Atlanta.

The funeral occurred at half past three. Nearly all the girls of the high school of which the deceased was a student, were present in the church and wore appropriate badges of mourning. It was a touching scene to see this throng of bright, blooming, happy girl's sadness as they were by the death of one of their loved companions. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Dabney, who spoke in words of tender compassion to the stricken family, and dwelt upon the hope, which, in such a beautiful death, shed its light on the dark river. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a large procession, and were tenderly laid in their last place of rest.

The deceased was seventeen—just in the beauty of a young womanhood, already adorned by rare graces and endeared by sweet virtues. Patiently, she bore the sufferings of her last days, and when the end came it was serenely beautiful in its perfect peace. There is on the earth no fairer sight than a lovely young woman, and when death claims such a one as his prize he robs many a heart of its joy, and perhaps some life of its consolation.

In such an affliction, mere sympathy is a cold offering, but for the afflicted family we would wish that this sorrow may be borne as serenely as she endured the last affliction.

Tallulah.

We notice that Tallulah fire company No. 3 has a handsome new wagon out and ready for use. Our people, by liberally patronizing the wagons of the fire companies, help to make the department self-sustaining. The noble men who generously guard the city against fire should receive every possible encouragement.

Fulton Sunday-School Association

The first of a series of public meetings of the officers, teachers and Bible students of the county will be held at the First Baptist church to-night at 7:45 p. m. An interesting programme is presented, and the meeting promises to be one of more than usual interest and profit. Sunday-school workers should turn out in force.

An Acquisition.

Since its virtues have been utilized by Dr. Tabler as a permanent cure for Piles, the Buckeye, now so abundant in our native forests, has become of almost as much importance in the medical world as Cinchena, or Peruvian bark, of South America. Fortunately the medical properties are in the fruit, the not the back; hence the trees will not be destroyed, but will stand many years to yield an abundant supply, and we may regard Tabler's Buckeye Pile Ointment as a permanent remedy. Price 50 cents a Bottle. For sale by Collier & Co., Pinson & Peacock, and Hutchison & Bro.

Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

Fair Bulletin.

I have made an arrangement with the North Georgia Stock and Fair association for the exclusive privilege of publishing a Fair Bulletin. I am determined to make it the best advertising medium ever offered to our business men. 2,000 copies given away daily, will contain the official programme of each day's races, and other proceedings, furnished by the secretary. Every visitor shall have a paper each day.

My canvassers will call on the business men. Don't miss this opportunity to make your business and name a household word in one hundred thousand homes.

A Word of Warning to Counterfeiters.

The wide-spread fame of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters causes a necessity on our part to remind, from time to time, whom it may concern, of the fact that imitating said article is a punishable offence, and we now give this word of caution, that we will most assuredly have all those persons engaged in re-filling our second-hand bottles, selling by the gallon or barrel, or in any manner whatsoever palming off on the public a spurious article purporting to be our preparation, punished to the full extent of the law. Penalty for counterfeiting, or dealing in counterfeit trade mark goods, as set forth by a law recently passed by congress: "Fine not exceeding $1,000, or imprisonment not more than two years, or both such fine and imprisonment." We never fail to convict.

Notice to Dealers and Purchasers.—Hostetter's Bitters are never, under any circumstances, sold in bulk, but always in bottles, with a finely engraved United States internal revenue (special proprietary) stamp covering the cork of each bottle, fastened to both sides of the neck of same. All Bitters purporting to be Hostetter's, without this stamp, are counterfeit.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault, and there is only one excuse for you—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, etc. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent, and not a Druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Three doses will relieve you.
